

Jesus

I am so prone to thinking that, as I am, so are You. If I am tired, You are tired. If I am frustrated, You are frustrated. If I am sick, well, you might not want to be with me. 😊 I think I have so many crazy thoughts like these but don't realize it because I don't say them out loud – or write them down!

But you are not as I am, You are not fickle and prone to all the struggles of humanity (even though you have tasted what it is to be human!). You are the same, yesterday, today and forever.

Oh, I treasure Your sameness. I want to fall into it like a great safety net. Or wrap it around myself like a security blanket. Its not only me who changes from day to day, the world is changing at such a pace that I can't keep up with it at all. And I don't want to.

So today I bring myself as I am and come to worship You – to thank You from the bottom of my heart that You are the same. You are steady. Your love never fails. Your mercy is new every morning. Your strength is there for my weakness. Your grace is always greater than anything I struggle with. Thank You, Jesus. Thank You so very much.

Amen.