

Opening to Oneness

Song of Songs 5:2

I sleep, but my heart is awake; It is the voice of my Beloved.

The beloved says from the other side of the door, “Open the door and come in, so we can experience just how one we might become.” You stand outside the door, reading one more book about how to open the door. You note in your journal one more thought about what it might be like to walk through the door. And all the while the longings of your heart remain unconsummated. And so let today be the day you open the door of your heart to God, whose heart, from all eternity, is open to you...God has left the door unlocked and even slightly ajar. God is waiting for you to open it and come walking through to experience that oneness with God that is the fullness of life itself.

Each day the Dawn-Bringer calls to us: “Open the door. Explore what you believe and know. Investigate what you do not believe and do not know. Seek my dawning light within the fragments of your daily happenings. Search within yourself for paths that lead to love. Lift the shades off the windows of your shadowy heart-room. Welcome each secret that shows its face to you. Venture into illuminating self-acceptance so more of my radiant beauty shines forth from you.”
