Pursuing God's Will Together: A 12-week guided time for leaders to learn how to be a team who can collectively discern, open to God, listen and promote community within their organization.

Using Ruth Haley Barton's book, Pursuing God's Will Together, your team will gather around 12 aspects of learning how to form spiritual connection in a way that will not only bless your team but also the people being led by your team.

Debbie will lead you each week in both teaching and experientially practicing these ways of being in God's presence together, hearing Him and being led by Him together.

At a time when the whole world has been stopped and the Church itself has had great limitations placed on past ways of leading, this is an opportunity for Christian leaders to be renewed in hearing God together, in knowing how to take people forward into a new day.

You may contact Debbie Laginskie at debbielaginskie@rogers.com to discuss details, ask questions and determine whether this is something your leadership team could benefit from. Sessions can be in person and through zoom.
